What were the Fund costs for the last year?

(based on a hypothetical $10,000 investment)

Class Name	Costs of a $10,000 investment	Costs paid as a percentage of a $10,000 investment
Class R6	$214	2.15% <sup>1</sup>

How did the Fund perform last year and what affected its performance?

Although GMO does not manage the Fund to, or control the Fund's risk relative to, any securities index or securities benchmark, a discussion of the Fund's performance relative to the FTSE 3-Month Treasury Bill Index is included for comparative purposes only.

Class R6 shares of GMO Alternative Allocation Fund returned -0.53% (net) for the fiscal year ended February 28, 2025, as compared with +5.26% for the FTSE-3 Month Treasury Bill Index.

The three largest exposures in the Fund had mixed fortunes. Event-Driven had a very solid year and was the biggest contributor to total Fund returns. Equity Dislocation, which is broadly 100% long cheap global Value and 100% short expensive global Growth, was down modestly, which was a reasonable result in a challenging environment for Value. Systematic Global Macro had a tougher year, particularly in its commodity positioning, and was the biggest detractor from total Fund returns. Despite being smaller positions, strong performance from Put Selling and the Asset Allocation Long/Short strategy allowed them to contribute nicely to total returns, while the Fixed Income Absolute Return strategy and the combined credit strategies detracted modestly.

Towards the end of the period, the exposures in the Fund were broadened out to include more alpha sources, with the intention of improving both the level and consistency of returns.

The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance data may be lower or higher than the performance data provided herein. To obtain performance information up to the most recent month-end, visit www.gmo.com. Performance shown is net of all fees after reimbursement from GMO. The performance information for all periods prior to January 31, 2025 was achieved prior to the change in the Fund's investment objective and principal investment strategies.
