What were the Fund costs for the last year?

(based on a hypothetical $10,000 investment)

Class Name	Costs of a $10,000 investment	Costs paid as a percentage of a $10,000 investment

<sup>1</sup> The costs do not reflect fees and expenses of underlying funds. Those fees and expenses are material and, if reflected, the costs in the table would be higher. Please refer to the prospectus for more information about the fees and expenses of an investment in the Fund, including fees and expenses of underlying funds in which the Fund invests.

How did the Fund perform last year and what affected its performance?

Although GMO does not manage the Fund to, or control the Fund's risk relative to, any securities index or securities benchmark, a discussion of the Fund's performance relative to the Consumer Price Index ("CPI") is included for comparative purposes only.

Class I shares of GMO Benchmark-Free Allocation Fund returned +7.07% (net) for the fiscal year ended February 28, 2025, as compared with +2.80% for the CPI.

This was a strong 12 months for absolute performance, but it was more nuanced in relation to traditional risk assets. Over the same period, developed equities as measured by the MSCI World Index were up 15.6%, emerging equities as measured by the MSCI Emerging Market Index were up 10.1%, while bonds as measured by the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Index were up 5.8%.

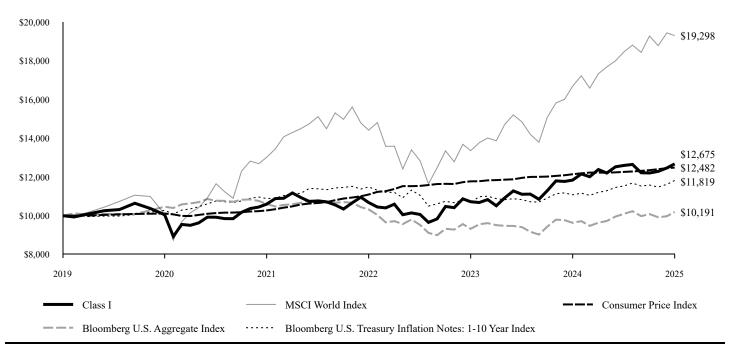

The Fund had an average equity exposure of about 54%, and this had a worse return than MSCI ACWI. Within developed markets, we were leaning away from the U.S. as we believed that it was trading at an unfavorable valuation, but it went on to have a very strong year relative to other markets. We also had a significant investment in emerging markets as we believed that they were trading at preferential valuations, and they underperformed developed markets for the period. There was a broadly 32% average exposure to alternatives and these delivered a small negative return, lagging well behind the resurgent equity markets. Fixed income assets accounted for an average 14% of the Fund, and these were up 5.4% for the twelve months, a little behind the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Index. The highlight within fixed income was the exposure to emerging debt, as the J.P. Morgan EMBIG Diversified Index returned 9.8%, and our portfolio was comfortably ahead of this with an 16.8% return.

Returns include a substantial, one-time litigation settlement recovery received on December 16, 2024. This event contributed 2.52% to the performance for the fiscal year ended February 28, 2025. Performance for other periods including this date was also positively impacted, sometimes materially. Without this recovery, performance would have been lower in both absolute terms and relative to the benchmark. Additional information is available upon request.

Performance data quoted represents past performance and is not indicative of future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance data may be lower or higher than the performance data provided herein. To obtain performance information up to the most recent month-end, visit www.gmo.com. Performance shown is net of all fees after reimbursement from GMO. Returns would have been lower had certain expenses not been reimbursed during the periods shown and do not include the effect of taxes on distributions and redemptions. The performance information shown above only includes purchase premiums and/or redemption fees in effect as of February 28, 2025.

*Returns include a substantial, one-time litigation settlement recovery received on December 16, 2024. This event contributed 2.52% to the performance for the fiscal year ended February 28, 2025. Performance for other periods including this date was also positively impacted, sometimes materially. Without this recovery, performance would have been lower in both absolute terms and relative to the benchmark. Additional information is available upon request.

The gross expense ratio of 1.40% for Class I is equal to the Total Annual Operating Expenses set forth in the Fund's most recent prospectus dated June 30, 2024. The net expense ratio of 1.34% reflects the reduction of expenses from fee reimbursements. The fee reimbursements will continue until at least June 30, 2025 and may not be terminated prior to this date without the action or consent of the Trust's Board of Trustees. Elimination of this reimbursement will result in higher fees and lower performance.
