How did the Fund perform last year and what affected its performance?

Although GMO does not manage the Fund to, or control the Fund’s risk relative to, any securities index or securities benchmark, a discussion of the Fund’s performance relative to the MSCI All Country World Index (“ACWI”) is included for comparative purposes.

Class I shares of GMO Climate Change Fund returned -21.18% (net) for the fiscal year ended February 28, 2025, as compared with 15.06% for the MSCI ACWI.

The Fund’s clean energy holdings, approximately half of the portfolio by weight, returned -38.1% for the year. This accounted for all the absolute drawdown in performance. Solar, biofuel, and battery companies fell significantly more than broader global markets. SolarEdge and LG Chem, a solar company and a battery company, respectively, were the two biggest individual detractors.

The Fund’s energy efficiency holdings also fell in absolute terms while the electric grid, agriculture, and water allocations added to absolute returns, but mostly trailed broad global equities.

The gross expense ratio of 0.91% for Class I is equal to the Total Annual Operating Expenses set forth in the Fund's most recent prospectus dated June 30, 2024. The net expense ratio of 0.87% reflects the reduction of expenses from fee reimbursements.
