Major Performance Drivers

The GMO Multi-Asset Trust returned 1.95% net of fees, which was 1.2% behind the policy benchmark of 50% Bloomberg Global Agg (AUD Hedged) / 25% MSCI ACWI ex Australia (AUD Hedged) / 25% MSCI ACWI ex Australia (Unhedged).

Long-only equities represented 48.1% of the portfolio at the end of the quarter, with 14.2% in Emerging Markets with a distinct Value bias, 6.1% in Japan Value, 6.2% in European Opportunistic Value, 8.2% in Developed ex-U.S., 6.2% in U.S. Opportunistic Value, 4.2% in Quality, and 2.9% in Quality Cyclical. The equity portfolio modestly lagged the MSCI ACWI ex Australia index return of 7.0%. Regional allocation detracted as Emerging Markets lagged Developed, and the U.S. outperformed within Developed. Stock selection was better, as relative performance was very strong in Emerging Markets, good in Developed ex-U.S., and held up well in the U.S. as Quality outperformance offset Value underperformance.

Alternatives represented 25.1% of the portfolio at quarter end and had posted a modest negative return for the period. The alternatives are invested 20.0% in Equity Dislocation and 5.1% in Systematic Global Macro. Despite being down a little, the Equity Dislocation strategy, which is 100% long Value and 100% short Growth, actually had a very solid quarter as MSCI ACWI Value trailed MSCI ACWI Growth by 6.2% for the period. The Systematic Global Macro Strategy was just the right side of zero, as lots of small wins were mostly offset by challenging positioning within equities. The decision to invest in alternatives in lieu of greater exposure to fixed income had limited impact on performance as they performed similarly to the Bloomberg Global Agg for the period.

Fixed income represented 26.8% of the portfolio at quarter end, including 7.2% in asset-backed securities, 2.0% in high-yield, 3.9% in Emerging Country Debt, 9.8% in Australian nominals, and 4.0% in U.S. nominals exposure. In aggregate, the fixed income exposure return was behind the -0.3% return of the Bloomberg Global Agg (AUD Hedged) return due to a difficult performance from the Australian nominals, which gave back a chunk of the first quarter's excellent return, as they fell 5.5%.

There was no exposure to cash and equivalents at quarter end. The portfolio intends to employ currency hedges such that the currency exposure will, very broadly, reflect the AUD exposure in the benchmark.

QUARTERLY INVESTMENT REVIEW

PRODUCT OVERVIEW

The GMO Multi-Asset Trust seeks to achieve a total return greater than that of its benchmark of 25% MSCI All Country World ex Australia Index Unhedged, 25% MSCI All Country World ex Australia Index Hedged, and 50% Bloomberg Global Aggregate Index Hedged, over a complete market cycle by allocating dynamically across asset classes. GMO's proprietary 7-Year Asset Class Forecasts form the foundation of our investment process, providing a framework to assess the return opportunity embedded in different asset classes.
