The J.P. Morgan EMBI Global Diversified (EMBIG-D) benchmark returned 3.3% for the quarter. During this period, the benchmark's spread over Treasuries tightened by 30 bps, finishing at 253 bps, resulting in a 2.4% spread return. Additionally, the 10-year Treasury yield rose by 2 bps to 4.17%, contributing to an interest rate return of 0.8%.

Additionally, underweight positions in Indonesia (+1.3%) and Malaysia (+0.7%) contributed positively. Conversely, overweight positions in Mexico (+0.8%), Colombia (+0.6%), and Senegal (-18.0%) detracted from country selection alpha.

As for security selection alpha, Argentina and Peru were the most significant detractors among in-index countries, with notable losses also from Türkiye and Ecuador. Conversely, Venezuela and South Africa contributed positively. Among out-of-index countries, Grenada and the Republic of Congo provided positive contributions, while Israel and Belarus detracted from alpha. In the quasi-sovereign category, Venezuela emerged as the top contributor, whereas Peru and Türkiye were the primary detractors.

As of the end of the period, the portfolio's largest overweights were in Venezuela, Turkey, and Argentina, while the largest underweights were in Indonesia, China, and Malaysia. During the period, the portfolio's overweight positions in Venezuela, Argentina, and Mexico increased. Notably, the portfolio's positions in Mongolia and Suriname shifted from overweight to underweight, while its underweight position in Kazakhstan increased.

PRODUCT OVERVIEW

The GMO Emerging Country Debt UCITS Fund's objective is total return in excess of that of its benchmark, the J.P. Morgan Emerging Markets Bond Global Diversified Index (EMBIG-D). The Fund invests primarily in external debt of sovereigns and quasi-sovereigns.

GMO's Emerging Country Debt team focuses on bottom-up issue selection, seeking to find issues with similar default characteristics but better long-term total return potential than the issues in EMBIG-D. We believe that our approach provides long-term, value-oriented clients with the best chance for total return in this asset class and differentiates us from other emerging debt managers who focus on economic forecasting, market timing, and other macro/top-down approaches.
