The Quality Spectrum Composite includes portfolios seeking to generate equity-like returns while providing downside protection by implementing a long/short investment strategy. GMO believes that high quality companies have a sustainable competitive advantage and will generate high, stable profits in the future, while low quality 'junk' companies lack sustainable competitive advantages and generally have riskier business models. The strategy seeks to invest in a concentrated long book of high quality companies and lever the long portfolio by shorting a diverse portfolio of 'junk' companies, with an emphasis on valuation. The composite was created in December 2019.

The strategy is not limited in its use of derivatives and typically the impact is material. Both the use of derivatives and borrowing may cause a portfolio's gross investment exposure to be in excess of its net assets (i.e., leverage), which may subject a portfolio to a heightened risk of loss. During the period presented the strategy typically used swaps, and rights/warrants.

The internal dispersion of annual gross returns is measured by the equal-weighted standard deviation of account gross returns represented within the composite for the full year. For periods with five or fewer accounts included in the composite for the entire year, 'N/A' is noted as the dispersion is not considered meaningful. The three-year annualized standard deviation measures the variability of the gross composite and benchmark returns over the preceding 36-month period. For periods without 36 months of composite performance history, 'N/A' is provided for both the composite and its benchmark.

Performance results are presented both gross and net of investment advisory fees. The composite results are time-weighted rates of return net of commissions, transaction costs and withholding taxes on foreign income and capital gains. Returns for pooled funds included in the composite include securities lending income, if applicable. Returns for private funds included within the composite, if any, are net of any private fund operating expenses. Valuations and returns are calculated and expressed in U.S. dollars. All composite returns reflect the reinvestment of dividends and other earnings. Net composite returns are calculated using a model advisory fee by applying the highest standard fee schedule among portfolios in the composite to the composite's gross-of-fee returns on a monthly basis. Actual fees paid by any individual investor may be higher or lower than model advisory fees.

Past performance is not an indicator of future results.
